To Whom So Ever It Concern

Kirloskar Vasundhara Film Festival (KVIFF) is successfully addressing various environmental initiatives for last 17 years in pune and outside. Under the film festival various activities are undertaken every year for local communities, school and college students like heritage and biodiversity walk, environmental project, exhibition, river walk, cleaning drive, plantation programme, slogan competition, environmental awareness drive etc. along with environmental film screening. The message of the festival is to preserve, protect and save the earth for next generation.

Ramnadi restoration mission (RRM) is one of the initiatives of KVIFF to restore a holy Ram River in a pune city. River has an 19.2 km long stretch flowing south west through three gram panchayats in pune city and finally reaches to Mula river. River is getting polluted because of encroachment along riverside due to construction, untreated inflow of sewage, anthropogenic activities and many more.

Kirloskar Vasundhara have planned to undertake project on ‘Ecorestoration of Pushkarni and River Ram near Someshwar temple complex, Baner through reed bed technology” under RRM at Someshwarwadi (Lat. 18.5461⁰, Longitude 73.797655⁰) Pashan, Pune. Modern college, Ganeshkhind, Pune is actively involved in research and development with reference to biodiversity assessment, ecological restoration, wildlife study, conservation strategies and management. Taking into consideration expertise of faculty members namely Dr. Sanjay Kharat and Dr. Prachi Kshirsagar we are associated with college as knowledge partner for above mention project since last four years. College has given inputs in designing the reed bed, selection of material for reed bed construction, selection of plants for plantation on Reed bed. College is regularly monitoring the physical parameters of water.
