

Department of Sociology

Programme Name BA

Programme outcomes: Bachelor of Arts (BA)

- PO1 Demonstrate Language and Communication Skills (Oral and Written) which can be applied in personal and professional spheres
- PO2 Display the ability to engage in social interactions across the board
- PO3 Adhere to values and ethics inculcated through the curricula in profession and personal life
- PO4 Develop an understanding about the need and role as citizens and taking up individual responsibilities.
- PO5 Gain knowledge and skills essential for employability

Programme Specific outcomes

- PO1- Think critically about the Different social Processes.
- PO2- Students will learn how humans developed social consciousness, self-concepts and Values
- PO3- Students will learn the central concepts developed by the theorists to analyse the social world. Students will demonstrate an understanding of the major concepts used by Sociologists.
- PO4- To understand the theories of social change devised by the major theorists
- PO5- Student Can Understand Social Construction of Crime, Deviance and Related Complexities

Course outcomes (UG)

First Year

Course- Introduction to Sociology (G 1 - General paper – I)

- CO1- Students can develop an ability to understand society and social interactions using basic concepts and terminology used in Sociology.
- CO2- They can develop a Sociological perspective to study everyday social phenomena.

Second Year

Course - Foundations of Sociological Thought (Special Paper-I)

- CO1- Students will be able to understand that how these Classical Theories/ intellectual background shaped the subject.
- CO2- In this paper we also introduce some Indian thinkers and perspectives to understand the process which ultimately shaped the Sociology as an independent subject in India. With this orientation students will be able to understand relevance of these thoughts.

Course- Indian Society: Issues and Problems (Special Paper-II)

CO1- Student will familiarize with different social issues and problems.

CO2- And enable them to analyze social issues and problems using different sociological perspectives.

CO3- With this understanding student can be a change maker for the society.

Course- Population and Society (General paper II)

CO1- Student can understand theories and perspectives and its application to study population.

CO2- Student can comprehend the impact of population on society as a whole and its relevance in policy making.

Third Year

Course- Social Research Method (Special Paper-III)

CO1- Student will equip with basic research Skills.

CO2- They can learn different types of research and understand issues in research.

Course- Contemporary Indian Society (Special Paper-IV)

CO1- They will understand and appreciate the plurality of Indian society, its composite culture and its resilience.

CO2- Students will aware about challenges and crisis of contemporary India.

Course- Crime and Society (G 3 – General Paper 3)

CO1- Students can comprehend the complex relation between crime and society, changing nature of crime.

CO2- Can prepare students for professional roles of correctional agents in agencies of criminal justice administration.
