

Department of Sociology

Programme Name MA

Programme outcomes

- PO1 Think critically about the Different social Processes
- PO2 Display the ability to engage in social interactions across the board
- PO3 Engage, design and evaluate research in an Interdisciplinary way
- PO4 Understand their individual responsibility towards civic and sustainability related issues
- PO5 Participate in policy engagement and advocacy

Programme specific outcomes

PSO1- Explain and apply the major theoretical perspectives in sociology they will enable to see the world from others' perspective also PSO2- Design and evaluate sociological research with Interdisciplinary Manner.

PSO3- to understand the central concepts developed by the theorists to analyse the social world

PSO4- to understand the application of the scientific method to understand 'social realities 'with critical approach

PSO5- They can understand their Responsibility towards civic, Policy Engagement and Sustainability

Course outcomes (PG)

First Year

Semester-I

Course- Classical Sociological Tradition (Compulsory)

CO1- Students will aware with foundational process for emergence of Sociology.

CO2- They will equip with critical, logical and analytical thinking to understand complex social phenomenon.

CO3- Enabling students to link theories and cross cutting issues.

Course- Sociology of India (Compulsory)

CO1- Students will understand the continuities, change, and contradictions in Indian society.

CO2- And they will be aware about recent issues in Indian society and debate around the society.

CO3- Students will comprehend with various perspectives of understanding Indian society.

Course- Application of Sociological Research Methods (Compulsory)

CO1- Students will understand the use of different theoretical perspectives and ground level research skills.

CO2- Students will be able to apply the research methods to practical issues.

Course- Sociology of Maharashtra (Optional)

CO1- Can enhance the sociological knowledge about local and regional context of Maharashtra.

CO2- Students can advance knowledge regarding changing trends in Maharashtra as a State, can analyze and reflect on the same.

Semester- II

Course- Sociological Theories I (Compulsory)

CO1- With the understanding of major sociological perspectives, students can sharpen their analytical skills for research.

CO2- Students equipped with sound knowledge of theoretical perspectives shall develop holistic view about society.

Course- Methodology of Social research (Compulsory)

CO1- Students will be aware about the philosophical foundation of social research and related debates.

CO2- Students will understand the diversity of method and critical thinking behind every method.

Course- Sociology of Education (Optional)

CO1- Students will develop sociological understanding of Education as an Institution and education as a process.

CO2- Students Can analyze and reflect on contemporary educational issues and challenges.

Course- Sociology of Media (Optional)

CO1- Students will be able to understand nature and recent trends in Sociology of Media.

CO2- Able to evaluate impact of mass media on Indian society.

CO3- They will be able to understand changing media scenario in the context of contemporary issues.

Second Year

Semester-III

Course- Application of Research Skills (Compulsory)

CO1- Students can work as an independent researcher.

CO2- They will understand the Correlation between theory and application.

CO3- How they can link their own daily life experiences with their interest area of research.

CO4- They will able to understand the importance of scientific approach.

Course- Sociology of Development (Compulsory)

CO1- Students will aware about different alternative models of development.

CO2- They will understand discourse of development and analyse recent issues with different perspectives.

Course- Sociology of Gender (Optional)

CO1- Students will develop an understanding of nature of gender inequalities, to develop gender sensitized approach.

CO2- They will analyse the gendered nature of major social institutions.

Course- Environment and Society (Optional)

CO1- Students can increase awareness and sensitize students regarding environmental degradation, its impact on human society and understand changing nature of ecosystem from sociological approach.

CO2- Students can be motivated to adopt sustainable development approach in everyday life.

Semester-IV

Course- Sociology of Globalization (Compulsory)

CO1- Students will understand theoretical perspectives of globalization.

CO2- They will be able to evaluate emerging new process and consequences in context of world and India.

Course- Contemporary Social Theories (Compulsory)

CO1- Students shall be aware of contemporary trends in social theory.

CO2- They can compare and contrast various theoretical viewpoints, to understand nuances of the society.

Course- Sociology of Social Work (Optional)

CO1- Students will enhance knowledge and skills about social work, its concepts, methodology in social work.

CO2- They will analyze various facts and challenges in social work

CO3- And develop an ability to contribute in welfare policies.

Course- Sociology of Crime

CO1- Students will acquaint with recent trends in Criminology and various theories.

CO2- They can understand Changing nature of Crime and recent issues and challenges.

CO3- Students can be correctional agents, with sociological understanding of this complex phenomenon.
